historical of how the institutionalization of modernism denuded experimental poetry most importantly contemporaries and snobs offers a counter history of the idiosyncratic of what the institution of modernism left and leaves behind with gertrude stein as its figurehead the book champions the noncanonical the barbaric and the undertheorized riding s nuanced defense of a poetics of the person in contemporaries and snobs represents a forgotten but essential first attempt to identify and foster what is now a well defined poetic lineage that leads from stein to the contemporary experimental avant garde in these essays riding takes her readers on a remarkably thorough tour through the critical scene of the 1920s among other influential treatises she considers t s eliot s the sacred wood and his editorial essays in the criterion allen tate s poetry and the absolute john crowe ransom s essays on the modernist poet edgell rickword s essays in the calendar of modern letters and herbert read s posthumous publication of t e hulme s essays all of this criticism riding notes gave modern poets a sheen of seriousness and professionalism but was it good for poetry her decisive answer is no this new edition includes an introduction by laura heffernan and jane malcolm that makes legible the many connections between contemporaries and snobs and the critical debates and poetic experiments of the 1920s as well as explanatory notes a chronological bibliography of riding s work and an index of proper names

this volume widens the field of soviet literature studies by interpreting it as a multinational project with national literatures acting not as copies of the russian model but as creators of a multidimensional literary space the book proposes a reconsideration of pierre bourdieu s theory of literary field and analyzes the interactions of literature power and economics under the communist rule the articles selected include theoretical discussions and case studies from different national literatures presenting different structural elements of the soviet literary field as well as phenomena created by the complexity of the field itself such as the aesopian language state of emergency literature or compromise as the essential element of the writers identity the history and future of an alternative oppositional translation practice the threat of machine translation has given way to an alternative experimental practice of translation that reflects upon and hijacks traditional paradigms in much the same way that photography initiated a break in artistic practices with the threat of an absolute fidelity to the real machine translation has paradoxically liberated human translators to err to diverge to tamper with the original blurring creation and imitation with cyborg collage and appropriation seven chapters reimagine seven classic procedures of translation theory and pedagogy borrowing calque literal translation transposition modulation equivalence and adaptation updating them for the material political and poetic concerns of the contemporary era each chapter combines reflections from translation studies and experimental literature with practical guides sets of experimental translation procedures to try at home or abroad in the classroom the laboratory the garden the dance hall the city the kitchen the library the shopping center the supermarket the train the bus the airplane the post office on the radio on your phone on your computer and on the internet
